RE: Policyholders Service Office Regulation
Chapter 0780-1-57
DA: September 1, 1989

Attached you will find a copy of Regulation 0780-1-57 as it has been approved by the Attorney General.

Please read the rule carefully. Briefly, the rule requires a notice of a policyholder service office address and a telephone number on the face of a policy or on a sheet accompanying a policy if the insurer has no policyholder service office in the state. A claims office may constitute a "policyholder service office" if it offers the services required under the rule. A general agency does not. The notice is not required to be placed on each certificate delivered to members of a group. Violation of the rule will be considered an unfair trade practice.

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter "Policyholder Service Office" means an office that provides support and information services to policyholders, including information regarding policy terms, premium payments, claims processing and payment.
